Oldest Railroad in Maine—$70 a Millionaire—Lumber—Penobscot Indians—Fancy Names—Capt. Smith and the Aroostook Indians.

OLDTOWN, Me., Aug. 10, 1859.

To the Editor of The Boston Journal:

The oldest railroad north of Massachusetts is that which connects Oldtown and Bangor. It is the property of Gen. Veazie & Co., but the Company outside the family is so small that the firm could be better expressed by Veazie & Son. These gentlemen, with their railway and vast mills, must be among the wealthiest citizens of Maine. Their saw-mill, which at this place of writing meets the Penobscot, is said to be the largest in the world. Colonel Gen. Veazie, when we consider his establishments of a similar kind elsewhere, be appropriately called a millionaire. Among the running machinery of the Oldtown and Bangor Railroad, are two old locomotives, which were among the earliest imported into this country. One of them was built by the celebrated George Stephenson of England, and is really worth a trip to this village, to see these ancient iron horses in stable. We believe that the Messrs. Veazie have offered under certain conditions, to put it on a railroad to the Aroostook.

Oldtown is certainly, for its size, a great lumber place. Mr. Pearson, of the Oldtown House, informs me that, on the average, one hundred million of feet of lumber are annually turned out from the mills, and some years they have shot one hundred and fifty million feet, which is more than one-sixth of the whole lumber annually made in the State. There are several neat churches, and many pretty private residences, and all around there is that evidence of neatness and thrift peculiar to New England.

The huge edifice, said the Bishop, next Roman Catholic chapel, speak of days when the French Jesuits came into these wilds, and on a small scale, it is true, did that which their brethren essayed to do on the banks of the La Plata and the Amazon. Protestants, however, have done more for this relic of a once powerful tribe, than the followers of Rome. The mild legislation of Maine, and the just regulations, faithfully carried out, have given the Penobscots a permanent home on the many beautiful islands which extend hence to the Mattawamkeag. An Indian can sell his "claim" to another Indian, but he cannot convey his property to a white man. Several of their houses are two stories high, painted white, and in their exterior, at least, seem like civilized homes.

Charles Hallock, Esq., junior editor of the Journal of Commerce, addressed our boatman a few words in the Sioux language, with which he (Mr. H.) became acquainted in his "Red river trail;" and to the great delight of the Penobscot Indian, the terms were so nearly alike that he could easily understand them.

Oldtown is a grand point of departure for the Aroostook pioneers. Capt Smith, one of the enterprising men of this village, informs me, that some days the steamer and stages have carried one hundred and fifty on their way to the region, which is far better than Pike's Peak.

It is greatly to be regretted that the mail service—and consequently the stage service—has been cut down from a daily to a tri-weekly line, for want of appropriation. This is the only route north of Bangor, and its importance can be understood when I mention, that a portion of Northern New Brunswick, as well as the rapidly-filling Aroostook country, are dependent upon this line.

BLONDIN'S ANTICS ON THE ROPE OVER NIAGARA.—Mons. Blondin has been performing what the papers call his crowning feat—standing upon his head on the rope over Niagara. This feat is described in the following paragraph:

"M. Blondin made his appearance attired in Indian costume, and performed a few antics on the platform. He then stepped on the rope, and to tremendous bursts of applause from those assembled, he took the balancing pole in his hands, and commenced his perilous trip. He halted three or four times before reaching the middle of the river, and ran backward. He then went on a run and reached the Canada shore in 5 minutes and 37 seconds from the time of starting. This is the quickest time he ever made by several minutes. After resting for twenty minutes, he started again bare headed, and went rapidly for a short distance; suddenly he stopped, dropped on the rope, and a shudder ran through the crowd; numbers expecting to see him fall. He soon, however, got down on the rope, and in a twinkling he was standing on his head, amid the wildest enthusiasm of the beholders. Six times he repeated this feat, interspersed with summersets and other daring feats. At one time he would be stretched upon his back, presently he would fall forward, and roll backward again. He next tied his pole to the rope, and proceeding a short distance by tumbling along, he suspended himself from the rope by his hands, and then by his feet, at last hanging by one foot over the boiling chasm. The acrobat finally reached the platform on the American side, having occupied precisely 19 minutes and 5 seconds."

It is expected that Blondin's next feat at Niagara Falls is to be the most astonishing of all. He will trundle a wheelbarrow over the rope, taking up the rope and coiling it in the barrow as he goes along.

A MAD MAN AT LARGE.—A writer in the Bridgport Advertiser states that a mad man has assumed armed occupation of a portion of the road from Bridgport to Stratford, and that he renders traveling unsafe. The following are among his feats:

"A short time since, a milkman who was driving along was attacked by this person, hauled out of his wagon until he hung by his feet and in this helpless condition was unmercifully beat on the head and body; the poor man made the best of his way home, and applied to the proper authorities for redress, but never received any satisfaction. A few days since a gentleman with his wife and family were passing the place where this insane man resided, he came rushing at them, armed with a hatchet. He made directly for the carriage, but when within a few feet of it, he suddenly turned about, and started for another carriage that was approaching.

The persons in the last vehicle, seeing him coming, urged their horse into a run, and by so doing, managed to escape. Shortly after this, another carriage came along filled with ladies; they were less fortunate; armed as before, he attacked them, and not being able to overtake the carriage, he threw his hatchet at it; the weapon struck on the panel, and the lady who was sitting close by it had a narrow escape. Several other persons who were walking that way were also attacked the same day, but being swifter of foot than he, they managed to evade him."

The selectmen of Stratford had the man taken to the poor house. Not being confined, he stayed there one night only, and then was at it a gest again. He was again taken to the poor house, but again returned home in a short time.

THE ST. LOUIS ELECTION.—Speaking of the result of the late election in that city, the St. Louis Democrat says:

"The election just closed is, perhaps, the most significant that has taken place in this country for many years, if it presents great, though intricate issues, disentangled from the complications which that anomaly, a third party, never fails to beget. What has been done in the County of St. Louis, may be done on a much wider theatre; nor should we pause with merely setting the example to the State, and the county at large. Let us advance the movement until the Opposition in Missouri is consolidated in one body.—Politics admit of no truce; to pause is to recede. Let us on then, and by a steady adherence to great issues, and a disregard of minor ones, be prepared to dispute this State with the National Democracy in 1860."

SOUTHERN LIFE. You tell me I must be more explicit in definitions of Southern provincialism, so that you can take in the full meaning of my words. [You instance the word speculator.—Speculator here means a slave-peddler. His wares are all specimens of flesh and blood, that are in the market from the blue-eyed, brown haired, fair skinned mulatto, to the full blooded African.

"Boy" is a word which has a peculiar meaning here. When coming to the Colonel's mansion alone, the driver calls to an old gray-headed negro, at work in the cotton-field,—

"I say, boy, which road leads to Col. W.'s?"

"Try road will fetch you dar, Massa—dar's one of his boys will show you it" was the answer.

We looked, and saw a little brown-haired, white-faced fellow, about the size of a monkey, perched on top of a pair of saddle-bags, and saddle-bags being in jointed on a splendid gray horse.

"Ah! are you Col. W.'s son?" asked the lucky man. "No,—massa, I'm only his boy," was the response. And the boy causes curious mistakes sometimes. He is about one little fellow, and his mistress dresses him nicely, and visitors sometimes by mistake call him by the pet names they give white children.

"Come here, Buddy, and let me kiss you," said a lady to him the broken by the obstacles it had encountered before it reached her body that her life was not taken and the wound was not very dangerous. The brother-in-law, being terrified by the accident, endeavored to shoot himself, but was prevented

The Republican papers havn't a word to say about their consistent and conscientious brethren in this State, who sold "God's images carved in ebony" to which they fell heirs in Missouri, and coolly pocketed the money It is one of those little transactions that permit us to see at a glance the hypocrisy of the professions of that party —Belfast Journal

The above is a very fair specimen of the prevailing mode of argument among the Democratic papers Instead of judging the Republican party by its general tendencies, and by the character of its leading influences, these hunker organs catch at every isolated case of individual incontinency and from these argue that the party is corrupt and hypocritical There are some millions of Republican voters in the Union —and it would be rather astonishing if all were consistent, either in doctrine or practice, with the principles held, and sincerely held, by the great body of the party, and guiding it in its general course Local feelings and prejudices, too, have their effect upon the views of men — Thus, while the Republican party in all parts of the Union, is the friend of the oppressed and down-trodden negro and the upholder of the cause of free labor—as compared with the democratic party, which is every where his enemy and oppressor— there is yet a difference even among the Republicans in different sections of the Union, as to the social and civil position which they would assign to the colored man — Here in Maine, and in New England, we would give him the right of suffrage, and generally all the essential rights and privileges which the white man enjoys—not advocating amalgamation, as falsely charged—nor yet advocating the social mingling of the races in all respects. But the people in some of the middle and western States have, as yet much stronger prejudices against the negro than we of New England, and in several of those States, many Republicans even are yet unwilling to give the elective franchise to colored citizens—as was seen to be the case in the Kansas Constitutional Convention This is to be lamented—but it is no good ground for raising against the Republican party at large The Republican party in any locality is incontestibly more friendly to the colored race than the democratic party of the same locality It would make the negro a free man everywhere—and it maintains always, and on all occasions, the superiority of free labor over slave labor, both as a God-given right of the laborer himself, and as to its influence upon the prosperity and destiny of the nation This is the foundation and the distinctive character of the Republican party—it is for freedom, and against slavery—and will sustain the one and battle against the other, by any and all means which can be properly and constitutionally used Beyond this, the party embraces, of course, men of all varieties and shades of opinion and feeling, as to other the social status of the negro race—and it is utterly absurd to accuse the party of inconsistency and hypocrisy because its members are not all equally free from illiberal feelings, or not all upon the same "plane" of liberality, as some philosophers would express it We do not claim perfection, either for the Republicans or the Republican party But can the Belfast Journal or any other hunker organ show as a better party? Can they show us a political party any more regardful of the civil and social rights and privileges of the colored race? Does the Democratic party do anything or pretend to do anything even for the freedom of the African? Does it not, on the contrary, as a party, give its influence to make his bondage perpetual? Most certainly it does. And here is the great and striking difference between the two parties There are good men and sincere friends of freedom in the ranks of the democratic party—and there can and must, and indeed ought to be, a concerted exodus of freedom in the Republican ranks. But neither party is to be judged by them. It is the general character and tendency of the party itself to which we are to look in determining our choice The influence which directs and controls the Republican party, and the whole tendency of its principles is in favor of freedom, and looks towards a just recognition of the rights of the African race as human beings. On the contrary, the democratic party is and has for years been controlled and its policy determined by Southern slaveholders, and their northern doughfaced allies—and of course the tendency of the party is against freedom, and against recognizing the plainest human rights of the colored people. This expresses the difference of the parties as clearly as it could be expressed in volumes—and it shows at the same time the weakness of the line of argument adopted by the democratic papers, as sampled in the extract above

A COMMENTARY ON THE EPISTLE TO THE EPHESIANS By R. E. Pattison, D D Boston Gould, Lincoln & Co 1859

This work of Biblical exposition is by the late President of Waterville College, and is an explanatory, doctrinal and practical commentary The ripe scholarship of the author is a guarantee for its ability, faithfulness and reliability in all matters of history, or of fact. So far as its doctrine is concerned, the followers of the different schools of theology will of course differ The motive assigned for selecting this particular portion of the scripture for commentary is that in no equally limited portion are so plainly expressed, or so significantly interwoven, the three essential elements of religion—doctrine, experience, and practical duties." The author says he has made "an honest and somewhat laborious effort to instruct the plain Christian who hungers for the bread of life, and to inspire him with a stronger desire for it."

KIND WORDS FOR CHILDREN, by Rev Harvey Newcomb, is the title of a beautiful little book just published by Gould & Lincoln of Boston It is intended to interest the young in matters of religious truth, and as the author says, to present to them in a manner suited to their capacities, the simple elements of Christian Faith It is the author's desire that food may be provided for the lambs as well as for the sheep

THE ROMAN QUESTION Translated by Mrs Annie T Wood from the French of Edmond About. Boston J E Tilton & Co 1859

This book of Mr About's, in which the character of the Papal Government and the political condition of the Papal States are analyzed and discussed with great freedom and at times with much severity, has created a sensation both in the religious and political world It is worth reading—and every reader can best draw his own conclusion upon the facts given by the author, and he may make up his own opinion about 'the Roman Question," without being troubled with the views of Mr About or anybody else — Rev E N Kirk, of Boston, has written an introduction to the work, and he bases it upon the somewhat remarkable, but largely received theory that it is in fact Louis Napoleon's book, and not Mr About's book at all—that is, that the French Emperor has employed the author to eliminate certain views about the Papal Government, which the said Emperor wants the world to see and to read, but which at the same time he, as a faithful son of the Church, does not permit to be published in France, but desires Mr About to Brussels to get them printed The idea is likely enough to be correct, Indeed, it is eminently Napoleonic—that is Napoleon in the "Third" degree—as it partakes largely of the sort of policy to which the present French Emperor sometimes feels compelled to resort in the political complications through which he is wading But we will give some of Mr Kirk's ideas of the book in his own language, and then leave it with the reader, who has only to step into Patch's and obtain a copy of the "Best in correct edition" Mr Kirk says'

The real origin of this work seems scarcely to admit of a question Mr About indeed wrote But it must be remembered that his residence in Rome was not unknown in Paris, that his articles first appeared in the Moniteur, that he going to Brussels for a printer was really to save appearances. We have here, indeed, an imperial book, expressing the views of one of the ablest statesmen, and now most renowned warriors of the age.

This work, if the common belief concerning its origin is correct, is, in reality, Louis Napoleon at the bar of public opinion, defending his present campaign His argument's, —Italy contains a great people, wrongfully denationalized and badly governed, the greatest plague of that lovely country is the possession of its central government by priests And it must be conceded by every one who reads this book, that the case is very strongly stated here The author has evidently prepared himself with great care. And the relations of the French government to the Pope enables its subjects to avail themselves of every means of information And whatever the ultramontane party may say in reply, they cannot, in the face of such revelations, hold up the papal government to the gaze of the world in any light that will save it from the detestation of all honorable minds, be they Protestant or Catholic

This book is a Paixhan gun against an old and rotten ship

Unfortunately for Mr Kirk's theory, the French Emperor has, since the above was written, stopped short in his present campaign, and made peace will not insisting upon any Roman reforms.

NEWSPAPER DECISION The Supreme Court of Indiana has made a decision which has bearing upon the interests of the newspaper press A controversy existed relative to a charge for advertising between the Commissioners of Hamilton county and the Patriot newspaper. It was held by the Judge that "the published terms of newspapers constitute a contract. If work is given to newspaper publishers, without a special contract contravening the published terms, the publisher can charge and receive according to the terms so published. It is not necessary to prove what the work cost or was worth, the publishers have a right to fix the value of their columns, and if so fixed no other question need be asked, but the price thus charged can be recovered.

It is stated that Mrs. D E. Sickles, with her father, mother, and child, will take up her residence shortly in Italy; and that in case of Mr Sickles being seated from his seat in Congress by the committee, Washington, he will join us there in Italy himself

LOCAL AND MAINE NEWS!

A NARROW ESCAPE On Saturday the 6th inst., Mr Daniel P. Wood and wife and Mr S. C Hennemway of this city, and Mrs Putnam of Salem, Mass., had a perilous adventure by the sea-side, and a narrow escape from death— In the forenoon of that day, they were out on a fishing party upon the waters of Frenchman's Bay, having a Mr Ash as skipper of the boat, there being one or two other boats in company, but some distance off—and all of them being four or five miles from land Thus situated, a squall struck them suddenly, and in attempting to go about the boat capsized. The two ladies sunk immediately; but Mr Wood caught hold of the boat at the stern, Mr Hemmenway at the bows, and the skipper somewhere else. Part of the ballast went out, and the boat just floated on her side. As soon as Mr W emerged from the sudden plunge, he looked round for his wife, and discovered her white bonnet rising to the surface, and she came up fortunately within his reach He grasped her, and held her to the boat with one hand and arm, and having braced one foot against a seat of the boat was enabled to hold on with the other arm Mrs Putnam was caught and held by Mr Ash, the skipper They remained in this situation about three minutes, when the wind caught the sail, and as Mr W says, turned the boat over —but he still held on by his foot, and then regained the hold with his hand The skipper at one time entirely lost his hold of Mrs Putnam, and she went down a second time, but was again caught as she rose They remained thus, with the seas breaking over them, for about seven minutes, until a yacht, in which were several young men from Bangor—Thissell, Hodgkins, Pendleton and others—came to their rescue and took them off, almost exhausted

A Republican Victory in Oregon

The overland mail which reached St Louis on Sunday brought the very unexpected, but welcome intelligence that the Republicans had elected their member of Congress in Oregon A correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat writing from San Francisco, under date of July 15th, speaking of this gratifying result, says

"The greatest piece of political news which has left the coast for many months, leaves it to-day, no less than the election of a Republican member of Congress from Democratic Oregon The returns are not all in yet, but the last footing up shows Lansing Stout, the Lecompton nominee, to be 44 ahead of David Logan, Republican, with Coos and Curry Counties to hear from. We have since received by the arrival this morning, the vote of the last two counties, announcing 70 majority for Logan, which leaves a majority of 26 for the Republican candidate, but whether he gets the certificate or not, he is entitled to the seat, and will probably obtain it There was the usual amount of fraud in the strong Democratic counties, and it is capable of proof that in several precincts the young was altogether informal and illegal

Be assured this is a great triumph—indeed, the first Republican victory on the Pacific It was a death struggle with the Democracy. Jo Lane and Delusion Smith both stumped the State, calling on the masses to support the regular nominee, but it wouldn't go down Lane and Smith said that every vote against their candidate was a vote against them, and relying on their personal influence to carry Stout through, worked night and day to secure his election The people have spoken out against it. Oregon is redeemed. What will the Democratic leaders say now—on the Atlantic side—those who helped Oregon to step into the Union, solely because of her Democratic antecedents?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

A COMPOUND REMEDY, in which has been labored to produce the most perfect alterative that can be made It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla so combined with other ingredients of still greater alterative power as to render it the most effective antidote for the diseases of the blood yet presented to the public It is believed that no remedy has ever been offered to the afflicted which there is more reason to expect will prove a perfect cure to all who will give it a fair trial Many of the most distressing diseases to which the human family are subject originate in impurities of the blood, and the number of cases of this character which have been cured by this compound will do it has been the subject of experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS ERUPTIVE DISEASES TETTER AND ERYSIPELAS BLOTCHES TUMORS SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD BOILS AND MINOR AFFECTIONS, SORES ERYSIPELAS BLOTCHES ERUPTIONS ON THE FACE DROPSY ERUPTIONS ON THE SKIN SCALD HEAD ULCERS DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION LIVER COMPLAINT AND DISEASES PRODUCED BY DISORDERED STOMACH BOSTON ST ANTHONY'S FIRE AND INTERNAL INFLAMMATIONS and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from impurities of the BLOOD

This compound will be found a powerful protector of health when taken in the spring to expel the humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year By the timely expulsion of these humors many deep-seated complaints which would otherwise undermine the constitution and develop themselves through the usual channels of the system, are prevented by the use of this alterative medicine Cleanse out the foul blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores, or when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins cleanse it when you feel it is the health will follow Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow. Many an aching head and painful disorder is felt people know better what ails them, but neglect to apply the remedy until a little longer, or cleansing the blood, the whole system is affected and all is well; but pitiable indeed is the condition of the victim of neglect when the fatal symptoms of consumption, scrofula, dyspepsia, or some other equally fatal disease has fastened upon the vitals, and the health and life is disordered or destroyed

Sarsaparilla has and deservedly has the reputation, of accomplishing these ends but the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations partly because the full value of the article was not in the compound that is claimed for it, but in many cases the preparations pretending to be Sarsaparilla have been extracts of it, contain but little of the virtues of Sarsaparilla by any thing like the process of boiling to which this root must be subjected to obtain its full medicinal value, and which alone can develop its curative properties Hence bitter ineffectual decoctions, filled with the cheap extracts of Sarsaparilla which, from the name itself is justly despised, have become synonymous with imposition and deception. Hence this compound Sarsaparilla, and intrinsic value, is not known, such a remedy as shall effectually overthrow the monstrous load of diseases which afflict mankind, has been the subject of long and laborious research, and we have the ground for believing it has been attained, and we are irrepressible by the confidence that the public will soon be satisfied that this is entitled to cure In order to secure the complete eradication from the system of every taint of disease, it should be judiciously taken in connection with the following remedies, which should be used according to the directions on the bottle has won for itself such a reputation for the cure of every variety of Throat and Lung Complaints that it is unnecessary to publish certificates of its virtues, wherever any considerable number of the people live. DR. MOWES'

VEGETABLE BITTERS.

THIS Fluid is here presented with a new Tonic, Alterative and Cordial Bitter compounded by DR MOWES of Lowell the inventor and proprietor of Mowes celebrated Cough Balsam These Bitters are purely vegetable as is testified by the distinguished chemist to whom they were submitted for analysis They are both pleasant to the palate and healing to the stomach, agreeable, as a beverage, and efficacious as a medicine They are fully equal to the first and most aromatic liquor in flavor and color. There is no want of an appetizer both re cating, and those afflicted with dyspepsia, acute nausea after taking food, with sour stomach, General debility of the system, and other like ailments, will find in these Bitters instant relief Travellers will find in them a creative for sudden illness. They are superior to any Bitters in the market. As a protection against counterfeiting those Bitters have been copyrighted by the District Court of the United States The following certificates, from an eminent chemist and a distinguished physician of Boston, furnish a sufficient warranty of the quality of these Bitters:—

Boston, August 4, 1858.

DR. DANIEL MOWE,

Dear Sir—Having subjected the sample of Vegetable Bitters received from you to the most careful chemical analysis, I am unable to detect the slightest trace of any other than purely vegetable ingredients in them

I know of no medical composition likely to be more beneficial as a tonic, cordial and alterative than your Vegetable Bitters

Very respectfully yours,

CHARLES T. CARNEY, M. D.,
136 Washington street, Boston.

Boston, August 4, 1858.

DR. DANIEL MOWE,

My Dear Sir—I have given the sample of Bitters received from you a careful examination, and find it to be composed only such vegetable medicinals as are highly prized by our profession for their tonic medical properties. The formula submitted to me shows the compound to be a well selected combination of valuable medicinal agents

Yours, very truly, &c.,

American & Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S Patent Office Washington (under the Act of 1837)

70 State Street, Opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years continued to secure Patents in the United States also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries Caveats, Specifications, Bond, Assignments and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on Reasonable terms and with despatch Researches made into American or Foreign works to determine the validity or utility of inventions and to furnish Legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar A statements recorded at Washington

The Agency is not only the largest in New England but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not those usually superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The testimonials below given from but one of many in my possession, fully establish the superiority for the purpose for which it is designed, and widespread, enduring popularity, has never been equalled by any other patented medicine invented and issued either in England or America.

The universality of the demand for the Pain Killer is a novel, interesting and surprising feature in the history of the times Since one It is now regularly asked and sold in large and steadily increasing quantities, not only to every State and Territory in the Union and every Province of British America, but to Buenos Ayres Brazil, Uruguay, Peru, Chili and other South American States to the Sandwich Islands to Cuba and other West India Islands, to Continental Europe to Mozambique, Madagascar, Zanzibar and other African Islands to Australia, Singapore, Manilla and to Calcutta Rangoon and other places in India; it is daily sent to China, and we doubt if there is any foreign portion it is frequented by American missionaries travelers or traders, into which the Pain Killer has not been introduced and been sought after by the people Very few people have any idea of the vast amount of business done by the proprietors of the Pain Killer

The extent of its usefulness is and her great feature of this remarkable medicine It is not only the best known for bruises cuts burns &c., but for dysentery or cholera, or any sort of bowel complaint. It is a remedy unsurpassed for efficacy and rapidity of action In the several great cities of British India, and in the West India Islands and other hot climates, it has become the standard remedy for all such complaints, as well as for dyspepsia, liver complaints, and other kindred disorders For colds, sore throat and coughs, canker, asthma, and rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing testimony, and testimony, to be unrivalled in the value of the speedy relief and cure of these diseases Incurable Rheumatism of many years standing, has been cured by the use of a few bottles of the Pain Killer, and other pains and the pains usually with the worst forms of bowel complaints, and none are more truly generous and benevolent In one, the sufferer is aware of cavies them their good fortune, for it is believed that they have well deserved it

[From the Provincial Advertiser]

THE fortunate and honorable demise of Perry Davis & Son's great medicine—the Pain Killer—was not, we believe so large as it has been of late, had we think the time has arrived when the declaration may be made without the possibility of refutation that the City of Providence, in the State of Rhode Island, of the United States of America, has furnished the entire habitual globe with a medicine which, in point of universality of demand, extent of useful ness, completely eclipses for all the purposes for which it is designed, and widespread, enduring popularity, has never been equalled by any other patented medicine invented and issued either in England or America.

DR. MOWES'

VEGETABLE BITTERS.

THIS Publis is there prouotice with a new Tonic, Alterative, and Cardial Bitter, compounded by Dr. Mowes, of Lyncil, the inventor and proprietor of Mowes's celebrated Cough Balsam. These Bitters are purely VEGETABLE, as testified by the Physicians of the United States, whose many years practice and observation has enabled them to form an analysis. They are highly pleasant to the palate and healing to the stomach, agreeable as a beverage, and efficacious as a medicine. They are fully equal to the finest cordials now made, and only in point of color. Those in want of an appetizer, before eating, and those afflicted with biliousderangement ranson after taking food, without a stomach, (generally debility of the system, and other like ailments,) will find in these Bitters the very article they need. Every bottle of them is certain to relieve all nervous illness. They are superior to any bitters in the market. As a protection against counterfeits, these Bitters have been copyrighted in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States. The following certificates from an eminent physician and a distinguished physician of Boston, furnish a sufficient guarantee of the quality of these Bitters:—

Boston, August 6, 1858.

DR. DANIEL MOWES:

Dear Sir.—Having subjected the sample of Vegetable Bitters received from you to the most careful chemical analysis, I am unable to detect the slightest trace of any other than purely vegetable ingredients in them.

I know of no medical composition likely to be more beneficial as a tonic, cordial and alterative than your Vegetable Bitters.

Very respectfully yours,

CHARLES T. CARNEY, M. D.,

136 Washington street, Boston.

Boston, August 4, 1858.

DR. DANIEL MOWES:

My Dear Sir.—Having given the ingredients received from you a careful examination, and find it to be composed of purely such vegetable ingredients as are highly prized by our profession for tonic medical properties. The formula just submitted to me shows the compound to be a well selected combination of valuable medical agents.

Yours, very truly, &c.,

CURTIS, M. D.,

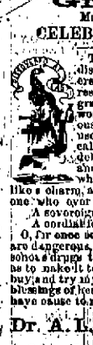
Made by DR. NORCROSS'

CELEBRATED REMEDIES.



Thousands who have been laid low by disease will attest to their healing powers. By the use of them they have been restored to health and vigor, and their gratitude is unbounded. O, could the world be wise—throw aside the poisonous and deleterious medicines they now use, which serve to redmon their physical strength, and bring on weakness and debility, and numerous other troubles—and take the long sought for medicines which operate upon the whole system like a charm, and whisper emphatically, as every one who ever used them will testify—

A sovereign balm for every wound,

A cordial for our fears.

O, for once be wise—don't longer delay. Delays are dangerous, and while you are taking the poisonous drugs the disease may have so far progressed as to make it too late to hope. Now is the time to buy and try my medicines, and again to enjoy the blessings of health. Try them—and you will never have cause to repent of it.

Dr. A. L. Norcross' Medicines.

[From the Providence Advertiser.]

THE foreign and domestic demand for Perry Davis & Son's great medicine—the Pain Killer—was never before so large as it has been of late; and we think the time has arrived when the declaration may be made, without the possibility of refutation, that the City of Providence in the State of Rhode Island, of the United States of America, has furnished the entire habitual globe with a medicine, which, in point or universality of demand, extent of usefulness, complete efficiency for all the purposes for which it is designed, and widespread, enduring popularity, has never been equalled by any general patented medicine invented and issued either in Europe or America.

The universality of the demand for the Pain Killer is shown, interestingly and surprising features in the history of this medicine. It is now regularly patented and sold, in large and steadily increasing quantities, not only to every State and Territory of the United States, and every Province of British America, but to Buenos Ayres, Brazil, Belgium, Peru, Chili and other South American States; to the Sandwich Islands; to Cuba and other West India Islands; to England and Continental Europe; to Mozambique, Madagascar, Candahar and other African lands; to Australia, Singapore, Mauritius, and to Calcutta, Rangoon and other places in India. It has also been sent to China, and we doubt if there is any foreign port that is frequented by American missionaries, travelers or traders, to which the Pain Killer has not been introduced and has not been sought after by the people. Very few people have any idea of the vast amount of business done by the proprietors of the Pain Killer.

The extent of its application is another great feature of this remarkable medicine. It is not only the best ever known for Bruises, cuts, burns, &c., but for dysentery or cholera, or any sort of bowel complaint, it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficacy and rapidity of action. In the days of the great cholera of 1832, and in the West India Islands, and other hot climates, it has become the standard medicine for all such complaints, as well as for dyspepsia, liver complaint, fevers, and other kindred disorders. For coughs and colds, canker, sore throat, rheumatic difficulties, it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing trials, and testimony, to be an invaluable medicine. The proprietors are in possession of letters from persons of the highest character and responsibility, testifying, in the strongest terms, to the cures effected, and the satisfactory results produced, in an almost endless variety of cases by the use of this great medicine.

We have only space to add in saying that no medicine has ever gained so rapid a popularity, so strong, so deep and so enduring. Other preparations, in imitation of it, and containing some of the ingredients composing it, are in the habit of extravagant advertising and deceptive statements, gained a short lived patronage; but their inefficacy and worthlessness have soon become apparent, and they have proved disastrous speculations to their originators and proprietors. The Pain Killer alone has been found the reliable and sure one. Its compounders and proprietors, Perry Davis & Son, of Providence, have the satisfaction of knowing that it is the purest, best and most valuable medicine ever offered to the public, and that it has conferred more benefits upon the human family than any other medicine of the age. It has relieved more suffering, saved more lives, and done more good than any other medicine in existence. It is truly a public benefactor, and deserves the confidence and support it has received.
